- E. SESSION SUMMARY:

I was looking out over the ocean. A dark band appeared on the horizon. It continued to get wider/thicker and extend further to each side. It began to look like a mountain or ridge line but kept getting closer and thicker. It became extremely still and quite. The ocean in front of this dark band became glassy smooth. There was a violent shock and the image of a mountain top being blown off somewhere distant. Incredible amounts of fire, brilliantly flashing and pulsating.

At that point, the ocean level fell away as if it were being sucked into a giant hole. The dark band became quite blue and of gigantic height. It was approaching a body of water which was inland from the ocean but connected to the ocean by a narrow passage or opening. The Dark band swelled up over the land and the opening and covered everything with a catastrophic result.

Next image was of a person lying flat and wrapped in some sort of cloth or shroud. This person was either very famous or popular or a political leader. The cloth covered all of him leaving only his face exposed. His condition was indirectly a result of the disaster which occurred above.
